Milam Highway Patrolmen investigated five accidents this week in which two people were injured.

Durwood Kennedy investigated a one car accident Thursday at 9:50 p. m. involving Mose Hill, Jr., 34, of Rosebud.

Kennedy said Hill ran off the road and rolled the car about three miles north of Cameron on US 77.

The car came to rest on top of him. He was thrown from the car and the passenger side of the car pinned him. Passing motorists pushed the car off of him and Hill was taken to Newton's Hospital and later transferred to the VA Hospital at Temple. He is in good shape.

At 10:30 a. m. Thursday Lee Walter Ahrens of Brenham went into a broad - side skid on the wet pavement at the intersection east of Milano and slammed into the front of a truck driven by Clay Johnston of Slaton.

Milam County Down City Polls 714

Total poll taxes in Milam County were 3,219, according to tax collector office officials while City-Sec. Buddy Fuller said city poll taxes totaled 714.

These totals were up compared to 2,200 in Milam and 475 in the city at mid - point of last week.

The 1963 total was down from 1962, a state election year, when about 3,600 registered for Milam poll taxes. The city registration was about the same.

Only elections this year will be in Milam school districts and incorporated towns.

Three men thus far have filed for posts on the City Council. They are: Starrett Hickman, incumbent councilman for re - election to a two - year term; John A. Smith, incumbent for re - election to Place 5; and J. C. "Jimmy" Marek, of Cameron, for election to Place 5.

Officials estimated that about one - third of the eligible voters in Milam County are exempt from poll tax payment. Exemptions are allowed for those just reaching 21 or who are 60 or older.

The pathos of a fast - moving world this week wrote dramatic headlines about a 79-year-old man who stood along a major highway nine hours one foggy night.

Just off the highway, his car set, crashed against a tree, horn blaring. Inside, his wife lay screaming and dying.

Why did the man stand nine hours along this major highway south of San Antonio? It was simple: he could not get any passing auto to stop, even to inquire, let alone to bring help. Finally, aid came. But earlier, his wife died.

Said Huntley: "History was made when 'Mona Lisa' passed 'Whistler's Mother' on the New Jersey turnpike."

Both famous art masterpieces were being transported by truck to Eastern cities, the "Mona Lisa" to New York, "Whistler's Mother" to Philadelphia.

February is an interesting month. Hearts and flowers are the rule for Valentine's Day, February 14. And two presidents, Washington and Lincoln, born February 22 and 12 respectively, are remembered.

Two men could hardly have been more different in birthplace, background or education. But both appeared at critical times in the history of this nation. So many volumes have been written on both that it is superfluous to recite their deeds.

One thing might be of interest. During their tenures as president, each vastly different in problem and scpoe, their critics had resounding success in "venting their spleen" on what these men were doing. Many history books don't emphasize this criticism. But now Washington and Lincoln are venerated. Little, if anything is remembered about their critics.

Warrant Issued For Ft. Worth Man In City Hall Case

A warrant for the arrest of Sylvander Sexton Close, of Fort Worth and formerly of Denver, Colo., has been issued from JP Jess Brock's justice court for questioning in connection with "felony extortion of $291 in lawful money of the United States of America."

Signing the complaint was Mrs. Betty Jean Close, former city employee, who signed a statement Tuesday admitting taking $279 from the City Hall safe. She was dismissed from city employment Monday night.

An audit by A. C. Uplegger Co., a Waco accounting firm, showed a total of $329 missing, city officials said Tuesday.

Police Chief Elvin Hoskins said $38 was missing January 21 prior to a disclosure the morning of January 29 that $241 was missing from the vault.

Jack Mercer, a fingerprint expert with the Department of Public Safety, took fingerprints from the vault cash boxes the morning the $241 was found missing.

Close was implicated by Mrs. Close, formerly his wife, in both oral and written statements to city officials. The money was said to have been placed in the glove compartment of a car.

Mrs. Close said he (Close) forced her to get the money for him, contacting her by phone January 18, according to Hoskins.

The cash is still missing.

DWI Charged In 2-Car Collision

Robert Eugene Foster, 33, Rt. 3 Cameron was charged in Judge Jess Brock's justice court with felony DWI. He was involved in a wreck with the local Highway Patrol early Sunday morning at Milano. Foster made bond.

Patrolman Durwood Kennedy, driver of the patrol car gave this account:

He and Patrolman Gilbert Smith were working radar about a mile and a half west of Milano on US 79 when Sgt. Paul Allen, radioed ahead that a car had passed him at excessive speed. Allen had stopped another violator.

They set the radar and prepared to give chase. The car came through the radar at 95 m.p.h. and Kennedy gave chase. Kennedy said that they noticed that the car was weaving on the road when it passed them.

As they approached the Milano "Y" they slowed down to about 95 m.p.h. Then, because of the high wind, they slowed to 75 mph before they came to the overpass.

Meanwhile on the other side of the overpass Foster had hit his brakes and went into a semi-broad skid, leaving his car across the road with half on each side.

Kennedy did not see the brake lights go on and didn't have time to stop. He tried to go between the car and the guard posts. The parked car started to roll back and he hit the Foster car in the left rear with the left front of the patrol car. The impact threw the patrol car against a guard post, damaging the left rear.

Both Kennedy and Smith were wearing seat belts and Kennedy credits the belts from making the accident worse. "It kept me from being tossed around and I was able to control the steering wheel. I highly recommend the belts." Kennedy said.

No one was hurt in the accident which caused $555 damage to the patrol car and about $350 damage to the 1957 Chevrolet driven by Foster.

Sgt. Paul Allen of Bryan was the investigator at the accident.

Firemen Answer Ten Alarms This Week

Cameron volunteer Firemen answered ten calls this past week. Six of these were grass fires.

On Jan. 31 a spark from a welding machine flew under the door of a storage room at Woodum Auto Sales and set papers on fire. The fire was put out before damage occurred.

On the first they answered a fire at the Cliff Jenness residence where a motor on a dishwasher had caught fire.

On Feb. 2nd they put out a grass fire at the Walled Lake Door Factory and then returned that night when it started again.

The firemen answered a call Feb. 4 at the Koenig farm east of Ben Arnold. A hay barn and 1951 Chevrolet pickup burned in the fire. Later that day they put out a grass fire on 6th street. About 4 p. m. the department was called to a grass fire at the Lyle McDermott farm.

Tuesday they answered another alarm for a grass fire on the dump ground road.

Wednesday noon the department was called to a car on fire in front of Dusek Pharmacy. The fire was put out before they arrived.

Yoe-Yoes Take 2nd Place In Rosebud Jr.Hi Tourney

The Yoe - Yoes took the runner-up trophy in the Rosebud Lions Club Jr. Hi Basketball tournament Saturday as they were edged out by the host Rosebud team in an overtime.

The Yoe - Yoes (8th graders) had wins over Marlin 7th graders and Lott Jr. Hi. The 7th graders were eliminated in the consolation bracket by Milano who went on to win that bracket. The 7th graders lost their first game to the Marlin 8th graders 49-20 They lost by eight points to Milano.

The Yoe - Yoes won their opening game over Marlin 44-30 as they came from behind in the last half. Marlin led 14-12 at the half. But in the second half Leo Michalka and Don Mitchell found the range and put the Yoemen ahead. Mitchell, the Yoe - Yoes high point man in the tournament, sank 16 points. Michalka the second high point man had 12 with all but two coming in the last half.

The 7th graders played the Marlin 8th graders but were unable to contain the bigger team. The Marlin team allowed only two goals from the floor in the second half. The score ended 49-21 and the 7th graders entered the consolation bracket.

In the next game with local teams in action the 8th graders took on the Lott team, which topped Academy 46-17 in the opening game of the tournament. The Yoe-Yoes took an early lead and maintained it throughout the game.

Bill Goeke was tops for the team as he scored 12 points with Michalka sinking ten points.

Saturday afternoon the 7th graders took in the Milano Jr. Hi and came out on the short end, 29-21. The score at the end of the first quarter was tied at 7-7, a big second quarter for Milano gave them a 17-11 half time lead, a 20-17 third quarter lead and went on to win.

Milano defeated the Marlin 7 th grade team in the finals of the tournament.

Then in the feature game of the tournament Rosebud and Cameron staged the battle royal which had to go into overtime to bring the winner into focus.

Rosebud took an early 13-2 lead before the excited Yoe - Yoes could start hitting. But the Cameron five came back to bring it 16-12 in favor of Rosebud at the end of the quarter.

Cameron scored four points in a row with McKinney's free throw taking it up with 5:23 left in the half. Manley took a rebound off of a missed free shot and put the Yoemen ahead for the first time in the ball game. But Rosebud came back and tied it up 18-18. With only five seconds to go Mitchell hit a free toss to put the local team ahead.

But a foul gave Rosebud a free toss and it was missed. Raymond Fabianke hit one of his two field goals of the night to put Rosebud ahead at the half time.

The lead went back and forth but a crushing blow came to the Cameron five as Michalka fouled out with 6:15 to go in the quarter. Michalka has been one of the most consistent shooters for the team and plays top defensive game.

The Rosebud team, on the basis of the side jump shooting of Sidney Burns and the "snowbird" tactics of Charles Belson gave the team a 34-28 lead when the buzzer for the final quarter sounded.

The Yoe defense stiffened as they moved in to narrow the lead. Mitchell sank a basket to make it 41-39 and things became hectic. Rosebud's Nick Halunka missed a free shot and Mitchell drove in to lay up a basket and tie the game.

Rosebud drove down and Bill Goeke tied up the ball. On the jump there was a violation and Rosebud took the ball out of bounds with only seconds left. Gary Lucus shot and the ball rolled and almost stuck on the hoop as the buzzer sounded. Then it fell off the side after a long second and overtime started.

In the three minute overtime Rosebud struck first as Belson drove into the Yoe defense and was fouled. He sank both shots to put Rosebud ahead. Halunka and Lucus each sank a shot for Rosebud and put the host team ahead 47-41 with only a half minute left in the game. Goeke sank one for the Yoe Yoes and the Halunka sank a free throw with only three seconds on the clock and the tournament was over.

MFB Will Hear Valuation Talk

The Milam County Farm Bureau will hear Maburn Harris speak at 6: 30 p. m. today Thursday according to School Supt. Charles Zeigler. Harris will speak on the equalization program.

Harris is general manager of Southwestern Appraisal Co. of Dallas and Stamford. He will discuss procedures in the equalization program with the FB members at the Texan Cafe.

A school representative will also be at the Cameron Parent - Teachers Association meeting later Thursday night to answer any questions on the program.

Zeigler said comments to the proposed equalization program have been few this past week. He also stated that most comments have been favorable.

PROGRAM CONTINUES

Zeigler said that a budget for uses for any additional local income has not yet been outlined. He also said the information program will continue through February. Thus far information programs have been heard by Cameron civic and women's clubs and other organizational meetings.

The cost of the equalization program would be about $24,600 and would take about six months to complete. About 5,300 parcels of property would have to be chartered in the 260-square mile Cameron district.

Farms, residences and business properties would be evaluated. Valuations would be established on real estate and land but not on personal property such as household goods.

The value of the property would be placed on the replacement cost, measured against a national average of market value and allowing for local differences. Depreciation of buildings would be considered.

CLASSIFICATION

Land is classified by grade as housing or commercial property. The classification would affect lowering or increasing the values.

Cameron District taxes now produce 24.1 per cent of District income. State average for local school tax support is 48 per cent.

District tax rate is $1.50 per $100 valuation, legal limit unless a special State law is invoked to raise the limit to $2.

Harris stated earlier that his experience showed 15 per cent of the values would be lowered, 15 per cent would remain about the same and 70 per cent would be increased.

Soil Sampling Bandwagon Rolls

COLLEGE STATION — During the past October and November more and more farmers climbed aboard the "bandwagon" and had their soil sampled, according to William F. Bennett, soil chemist, of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Samples for the two months were about 50 percent higher in 1962 than for the same period of the previous year with the High Plains Laboratory receiving the largest inc - rease in samples. The other two soil sampling laboratories in Texas are in Baylor county and at Texas A & M College.

High counties for the two month period were Ellis with 197, Bell with 168 and Travis with 162, Bennett says. Hockey, Colhoun and Kaufman counties all submitted over 100 samples each, he adds.

The annual fertilizer tonnage report shows that Texas farmers used 944,901 tons of fertilizer in 1961-62 as compared to 766,055 tons in 1960 - 61, the chemist says. The High Plains and Trans - Pecos areas continued to be the heaviest users applying 30 percent of the state total. East Texas, North Central Texas and the Coastal Prairie followed in decreasing order. Hale, Harris, Hidalgo and Deaf Smith counties all used over 20,000 tons while Lubbock, Lamb, Wharton, Dallas, Jefferson and Parmer rounded out the top 10 counties in fertilizer usage.

Bennett says that all this means more soil sampling especially for spring crop planting and advises farmers to make their samples early to insure prompt return of the report. He also encourages taking good samples and using a soil sampling information sheet.

PICKING BEST PUP IN LITTER

Often the best looking pup in a litter won't necessarily make the best hunting dog. It's the nose that counts, not the looks.

To find the sharpest nose among the pups, turn them out in the yard and scatter a fistful of meat chunks around. The pup that noses out the most meat has the sharpest hunting nose.

Keep him!

Frigid Weather Calls For Close Crop Attention

Recent frigid weather makes it adviseable for farmers in this area to examine small grain crops and fertilize plants which are still alive.

Dr. Aaron Baxter, rural development specialist for Texas Power & Light Company, said some oat and barley crops have been lost by repeated freezes but most wheat plants are still living.

Baxter stated that farmers should first examine crops and then purchase enough nitrogen material to apply 40 to 60 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre where enough live plants remain to cover the area through tillering.

He reported wheat producing 40 bushels per acre or oats producing 80 bushels per acre will take up approximately 80 pounds of nitrogen, 30 pounds of phosphorus and 50 pounds of potash. He added that about 50 pounds of nitrogen, 25 pounds of phosphate and 15 pounds of potash will be removed from the soil in 40 bushels of wheat.

He concluded that straw from small grains will aid in increasing organic matter in the soil. Nitrogen, Baxter said, must be applied generously to crops following small grains so that there is enough nitrogen for the crop and for the soil microbes which decompose the straw.

New HD Club Is Organized Here

W-2 Tax Form Is Important Paper

According to A. P. Andrews, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service, Temple, refunds cannot be paid without required W-2 withholding tax certificates; credit cannot be given for taxes withheld; and failure to include the certificate with your tax return will mean return of the incomplete form to the taxpayer.

The IRS representative also reminded taxpayers that in a joint 1962 return, where both parties worked, W-2's for each must be attached. And when either or both parties to a return held more than one job during the year, all W-2's must be attached.

"Nothing I know of, Martha, would ever make washing and drying clothes fun, but my new electric dryer sure makes it a lot easier!"

If we could listen in further on this conversation, we'd probably hear a lot of good things about drying clothes the flameless electric way. Chances are Virginia will tell Martha how nice it is to be able to dry anytime, not just "weather permitting." And, it's quite likely that Martha will hear, too, about the time-and-effort-saving advantages of an electric dryer . . . no more fumbling with clothes pins, no more struggling with baskets of wet, heavy wash.

P. S. to Virginia: Don't forget to tell Martha how much easier ironing is with clothes dried the flameless electric way.

Taxpayers Reminded Of Bond Refunds

Taxpayers were reminded today of the new plan allowing them to take their refunds in United States Savings Bonds, by A. P. Andrews, administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service in Temple.

Beginning with the 1962 Individual Income Tax Return, eligible taxpayers will be given the opportunity to take their refunds in Series E Savings Bonds, in addition to the standard options of cash or applying the refund to next year's tax. When Savings Bonds are chosen, the smallest possible number of the highest denomination bonds will be issued, along with a check to cover any remaining balance of a dollar or more.

The idea of allowing a taxpayer to choose between Savings Bonds and a check is not new. Taxpayers have been recommending it for years. What enabled the Treasury to offer it with the 1962 return was the recent installation of high - speed data processing equipment to handle tax returns.

Cameron 8th Graders Drop Rosebud 58 - 37; Michalka Scores 28 Points

It was sweet revenge for the Yoe-Yoes as they defeated the Rosebud 8th graders 58-37 in a non- district game Monday night in Cameron.

Rosebud had edged out a 48-43 overtime victory over the Yoe-Yoes in the Rosebud tournament Saturday and the Cameron quintet were waiting for the next meeting of the two teams.

But the amazing event of the game was Leo Michalka's shooting as he scored 28 points. In the Rosebud game he was fouled out early in the game and only scored five points. But this game gave him his season's high and a very high total for a Jr. Hi player. Only two of these came on free shots as he sank twelve field goals to lead the Yoe - Yoes.

Michalka, one of the quickest Jr. Hi players, stole the ball several times as the Yoe - Yoes pressed the Rosebud team all the way in the earlier stages of the game.

The Yoe - Yoes led all the way except for a few seconds in the second quarter when Rosebud got hot and reduced the nine point lead and went ahead 19-18. But the Yoe-Yoes came back as Michalka hit a field goal 20 seconds later. He stole the ball, sank another and Mitchell added two points and the Yoe - Yoes moved ahead again.

Don Manley was third for the Yoe - Yoes with five as he controlled the boards. Dennis Woodum hit two long set shots as he scored four.

The win gave the Yoe-Yoes a 15-4 season record.

Lester Scores 8 Points To Lead Yoemen In Victory

The Cameron Yoemen closed out the 1963 home basketball schedule with a 60-55 win over the Navasota Rattlers. The Yoemen led all the way.

The Yoemen used a fast break and a close defense to stop the Rattlers. The Yoemen lost the first game to the Navasota team.

Merlin Lester moved out into the scoring spotlight as he dropped 10 field goals and 6 free throws for 26 points for the night. Billy Davenport was second with 12 points.

Rockdale Takes Win Over Yoe

Rockdale's stiff defense and fast breaks proved too much for the hustling Yoemen to handle. Rockdale stopped the Yoemen cold as they ran up a 70-35 victory over the Yoemen.

The Tiger victory moved the Rockdale crew another step closer to the district championship. This is the second time the Tigers have defeated the Yoemen.

Duane Vincent's Tigers jumped off to an early lead as the first quarter ended 13-5. At the half time the Yoemen trailed 14-35

Merlin Lester headed the list of Yoemen scorers as he hit four field goals and five of nine free throws. Dickie Ponder hit nine points, most of these coming on his long set shot. Mack McKinney had six points.

Jimmy Killen perhaps one of the best players in the district, took the scoring honors for the Tigers as he hit twenty points. Copie Perry was second with 18 points.

By James Hollas

The Yoe - Yoes played their last home game to a small crowd of basketball fans that have been around to watch them play the exciting type of basketball that has been their trademark this year.

On the road they have had a small band of interested parents and fans who have been rewarded with a fine exibition of basketball at the lower level.

These kids have played their best and if they will stay together, and there is no reason why they shouldn't, Cameron should have a real tough basketball team in a couple of years. They are real interested in sports and are fine students.

Each year more and more Americans take an active part in all types of sports. It is now estimated that over 36 million take part in the most popular sport which is boating. Fishing runs a good second with 33,500,000 participants.

Bowling is third with 35 million. Volleyball and table tennis each have 20 million players.

The national sport of baseball ranks in tenth spot with nine million players.

Football, with the White House's public approval, draws 2 million.

The fastest growing sport, percentage wise, is softball. This game has grown from 4,700,000 in 1946 to 14,500,000 in 1961.

But the significant fact among all the 23 sports listed each gained in participation. Maybe the spectator era is coming to an end.

Cameron Yoe - Yoes Drop Rockdale 50 - 33 In Dist. Game

The Cameron Yoe - Yoes made it two straight over Rockdale as they downed the Rockdale 8th graders 33-15 in Cameron last Wednesday.

The Yoe - Yoes again displayed the alert defensive skill which has earned them the tie for first place in the district. This is the second time they beat the Rockdale team. The score of the first game was 51-26.

Don Mitchell was tops for the Yoemen as he hit 14 points. Leo Michalka with his outside shooting was next with 12 points all on field goals. Guard Jackie McKinney was next with 8 pounds and Bill Goeke hit seven points.

Branaman was high for the losers with 18 points.

AH 7th Grades Take Second Win Over Rockdale Jr. Hi.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocketbook. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging.

The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate the rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?

Nation s Ajumble Over Nuclear Power

First Britain, then France and now neighbor Canada have gone astumble over the controversial step of nuclear armaments.

Central figure in all these apparent internal feuds over nuclear defense is the United States. It is because we have the nuclear capabilities to pass on to allies who can use them in their own defense.

Britain's MacMillan accepted American Polaris submarines as a nuclear deterent in lieu of the British "Skybolt" program which had proved immensely expensive and generally ineffective. British politicians and press accused Mcmillan's acceptance from President Kennedy as submission to U. S. power

Then French President De Gaulle rejected nuclear armaments from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) largely because he wanted France to have its own program and partly because he resents U. S. influence through NATO in this basic defense against Soviet aggression.

Canada's conservative government threatens to topple amid charges that Prime Minister Diefenbaker is slow to accept U. S. nuclear warheads.

These Western government complications probably results from the nuclear showdown at Cuba. Everyone scrambles for his own capabilities, but resists the implications of total reliance on U. S. supply.

President De Gaulle jumbled European Common Market plans in an effort to assert French leadership over Western Europe. He publicly resents any organization superior to the French government.

Britain, trying to enter ECM, is moving from a position of disadvantage following their acceptance of Polaris subs. De Gaulle knows this and wants to dominate in future organization of the ECM, vetoing Britain's entry and asking Spain to join in the organization.

Canada's tiff over nuclear arms apparently stems from Diefenbaker's concern over a national reaction similar to that Macmillan drew in Great Britain. Diefenbaker's conservative government is a minority party.

It boils down to a major change in attitude of Western allies toward the United States. Realizing that Khruschev lost his initiative at Cuba, these nations now wish to assert themselves without appearing to be submissive to the U. S. nuclear juggernaut.

Area Meetings Here Speak Volumes

We notice more and more that Cameron's central location and community facilities are being utilized by various organizations.

This week at least two area church groups were to meet in Cameron.

Last year, a large number of functions was held here, attracting hundreds if not thousands of people to Cameron, many for the first time.

This course of events bespeaks the pride with which Cameronites are inviting their friends and associates in business, church and civic groups to visit and meet in Cameron.

It gives them opportunity to show the advantages that this community has worked so hard and is continuing to provide for its people and visitors, such as the various church and civic groups.

That these people come to Cameron, do their business and return to their homes with Cameron's enterprising hospitality a firm memory speaks volumes for the present and future of this town.

Temple Firm Takes 4.6 Mile Contract

A contract for 4.6 miles of construction on FM 2095 in Milam County has been awarded to a Temple firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

Bill Told To Elect Speaker

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont wants the voters of Texas to select the Speaker of the House.

He has introduced a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to make the position of Speaker an elective office.

If passed by the people it would eliminate much bickering among House members, not only during sessions but between sessions. It would speed up work in the House by enabling the members to get down to business on the opening day of each session. And equally important it would save the State many thousands of dollars as a consequence of the man hours lost.

Frequently serious and bitter personal feuds have developed between members of the House prior to the House's selection of a Speaker as well as by disgruntled groups following the election.

To add to the confusion, prospective candidates for Speaker start jockeying for position with the beginning of every new session.

In the end the taxpayer of course is the loser. It has been said that some special sessions have been necessary due to the long delays and the wrangling that has resulted in years past over the Speaker or the Speakership.

The Senate does not have this problem since the people elect the Lieutenant Governor to preside over the Upper Chamber. Both jobs are identical, but only in the Senate do the people have a voice.

PADRE PROJECT BRIGHT

Prospects are brighter for passage of Padre Island National Seashore legislation by the House and Senate.

An impressive parade of supporting witnesses went before State Affairs Committees in both Chambers and a surprising about-face occurred on the part of Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Several hundred Seashore boosters journeyed to Austin ... largely from Nueces, Willacy and Cameron counties ... to pack the mid - week hearings. A total of 27 witnesses testified in favor of Sen. Bruce Teagan's Padre proposal, with no one appearing in opposition.

Similar testimony was heard by the House State Affairs Committee ... studying bills by Reps. Menton Murray of Harlingen and Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi. A single opposing spokesman stated that he just did not like the idea of creating a national seashore area.

Opposition had all but vanished otherwise -- participally because of Sadler's retreat from his previous stand. He told the legislators that if a Federal project was what they wanted, "then I want to see it happen, too."

The reversal by Sadler apparently signaled the end of various "anti - Padre" efforts mounted in both houses by Rep. Rayford Price of Frankston and Sen. George Parr house of Dallas, each of whom was sponsoring a bill giving Sadler veto power over the Seashore project.

House and Senate subcommittees appointed to study the legislation appeared to be generally sympathetic and avowed Padre Seashore opponents were in a minority on both groups.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS

More than 200 women marched into a senate committee meeting on "equal rights for women" and cheered committee approval of a constitutional amendment they've battled for through several legislative sessions.

The "equal rights" bill -- yet to be passed by the Senate -- may run into trouble in he House of Representatives.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford -- former foe of the amendment -- is chairman of the House Constitutional Amendments committee.

GOVERNOR SIGNS FIRST BILL

First bill to be signed by Gov. John Connally was one he'd requested.

It was the bill which appropriates $65,000 for his office; $50,000 for a study of higher education needs; and $82,000 for investigation and prosecution by the Attorney General's office.

Governor Connally also made two appointments. He named Austin attorney Robert D. Bullock to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, and reappointed Mrs. J. S. Abercrombie of Houston to the State Board of Mansion Supervisors.

SOLD ON SCREWWORM

Governor Connally met with farm and ranch leaders and told them he's still a strong supporter of the Screwworm Eradication Program, but won't request the legislature to make emergency appropriations until he sees the results of the program's fund drive.

"I am completely sold on the program," Connally said, "and am confident the livestock industry will raise the remainder of its quota by March 1."

He said requirements for a state contribution to the eradication program will be considered after March 1. "I do not think we will have difficulty in securing state appropriations, if the producers can meet their commitment," the governor predicted.

'MADE IN U. S. A.' ORDER HIT

The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals in Austin has contradicted the State Highway Commission by declaring that the commission has no authority to enforce a "made in the U. S. A. only" restriction on highway construction materials.

Commission had stated on October 28, 1960, that highway contractors can't use foreign materials for highway construction. This order was challenged by the Texas Association of Steel Importers, Inc. in the 53rd District Corurt in Austin, which upheld the state order.

Importers appealed to the 3rd Court of Appeals. It ruled, "We believe an order disbarring all imported materials from the market available to highway construction contractors acts to restrict competitive bidding."

Attorney General Waggoner Carr plans to appeal the decision.

LEADING TRIAL ATTORNEY JOINS CARR

Texas' Attorney General who recently bemoaned the fact that his department couldn't afford to employ experienced trial attorneys to prosecute slanted - hole oil well cases and cases retulting from the Billie Soil Estes scandal, has added a legal luminary to his staff.

He is Joseph Searcy Bracewell, former president of the Houston Bar Association and father of former Sen. Searcy Bracewell.

HOME FOR PARKS BOARD?

An alternate to Governor Connally's proposal that the State Parks Board be combined with the Game and Fish Commission has been offered by the Bayshore Rod, Reel and Gun Club of Baytown.

The club, which believes the merger proposed by Connally would be "catastrophic" for the Game and Fish Committion, argued that the State Highway Department would be a more suitable "partner" for the Parks Board.

As the law now stands, the Highway Department holds the purse strings to all state money allocated for tourist attraction.

INDUSTRY LURE

A proposal to give new or expanded industry a five - year exemption of state property taxes has been advanced by Rep. C. Jim Segrest of San Antonio in a constitutional amendment he introduced in the House.

"Tax lures" for new industries are considered unattractive by the Texas Industrial Commission, but Rep. Segrest predicted a property tax exemption would speed up industrilization. His proposed exemption would apply to new industries coming into the state or to existing firms which increase both capital investment and employment by 10 per cent.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY

That old saying "life begins at forty" has been refuted by many workers who claim their troubles start at forty, when their jobs are endangered because of their advancing age.

Governor Connally included job security for people up to 65 in the program he laid before the 53th Legislature.

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Takes A Stab At Understanding Common Market In Europe, But Misses

Dear editar:

In between news of new cold fronts, the papers lately have been filled with articles about England's troubles in getting into the European Common Market, and I have been giving this some thought.

As I understand it, nobody really understands it.

I mean, nobody understands why De Gaulle won't let England in, when all the other countries in on the deal want her in. One magazine took ten pages to explain it, and never did.

The Common Market, it has been explained to me, simply lifts all the border barriers between the countries of Europe, so that potatoes, say, can move from France to Germany like they can from Milam County to Robertson County without any tariff charges or red tape.

But De Gaulle is standing firm against England, possibly on the grounds that he doesn't like English potatoes. It's not that he has anything against Englishmen. For example, during the First World War and also in the Second World War, Frances was highly in favor of a common market in soldiers, and welcomed British fighters with open arms. Weren't any tariff charges on them. Why they even let Americans in on it.

This is all I know about the Common Market, and to rest my mind from all this international thinking, I would like to get on a domestic subject and ask the weather bureau a question.

Cold fronts have been sweeping over the United States so often this winter it's hard to keep up with them. For example, I'm not sure whether it was four or five fronts we had in January, and what I'd like to ask the weather bureau is why doesn't it name them like it does hurricanes? "Cold Front Khrushchev has been sighted in Canada and is due to hit the United States at midnight," the bulletin could read. Or "Blizzard Castro is weakening." If cold fronts are going to make people miserable, there'd be some satisfaction in calling them by name. Right not, the only cheerful thing about this winter is that Russia is having the same kind.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"If The Eye Be Single"

"The light of the body is the eye, if therefore the eye be single, the whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil thy whole body shall be full of darkness."

This is to say that if the whole mind and heart is centered on God the life is full of light, entirely dedicated to one purpose, the doing of God's will. If, however, the light wavers or is swayed between good and evil it operates at cross purposes and wanders away from its goal, it is in darkness.

The Church's purpose is to furnish true light. To that person who attends and makes full use of it will come light (wisdom), counsel, fortitude and comfort in time of trial. Thus he will the better be able to keep on the path of singleness of purposes — a full life dedicated to God.

Most bass fishermen spend too much time changing baits. Drawbacks to the try - one - now, a different - one - later, system are many. But the primary objection is that the lure doesn't get a fair enough test to actually tell whether or not it will produce.

It is much better to stick with one or two lures, letting them have the time to make a true test.

But what lures: That's the preplexing problem. Today there are so many artificial baits in different sizes, shapes and types that it confuses the average fisherman.

Most of the better anglers have one thing in common. They concentrate their efforts either on the top, or at the opposite extreme, right on the bottom.

There's a good reason for this thinking. Much of the bass' food supply is concentrated in these regions.

Probably the one big exception is small bait fish like minnows and sunfish. But a hungry bass usually will come to the top to take a frog - looking popper or a worm crawled along the bottom, as readily as he will a perch - type lure.

A lure that operates either right on top or right on the bottom has an advantage over the other lures in that it can be worked at the ultra - slow speed needed to tempt big bass.

Most lures which show up in sporting goods stores have a definite place in fishing. But they are specialized tools and work only in certain situations. Knowing how to recognize these situations requires much experience.

Most weekend anglers simply haven't encountered enough situations to pinpoint clues which will tell them which lures to use.

In this respect water depth is very important. Lures with metal lips are designed to run at certain depths. A lure built to run 1 feet beneath the surface will, for example, be halfway down in 20-foot water, near bottom in 12-foot water, but close to the surface in 40 - foot water.

Unless the angler knows the depth of water he's fishing, this type lure will be practically useless.

But if he sticks with the topwater bait or the bottom - bumper, the water depth is not as important He'll still have his bait in the vicinity where bass hang out.

Only within the past few years have fishermen been able to apply this formula successfully.

It used to be that the only baits which dug deep down, where the big bass are most apt to be found, were those with long metal lips. These baits require a fast retrieve to make them dig deep, too fast to make them really effective on a lazy old bass.

Also they are not too effective at depths exceeding 30 feet, and often the truly big bass are found at extreme depths of 40 to 50 feet.

Lifelike lures made of limp plastic can be worked very slowly, crawled right along the bottom, yet they have enough action to tempt bass.

Many anglers carry two rigged outfits in their boats, one equipped with a top - water lure, the other with a bottom - bumping bait. They try one for 25 to 30 casts, and if then they haven't inveigled a strike they switch to the other outfit.

Often it pays off to try the top-water baits for the first couple of hours after daybreak when bass migrate into the shallows to feed on things found along the surface; then use the bottom - bumping baits during the remainder of the day when the fish have drifted back into deep water.

As to the color of a lure it has been proven that the color shading is more important than the actual color itself. If a person stays with two basic type lures - topwater and bottom - bumping -- and two basic colors, light and dark, he'll be right 99 times out of 100.

Dear Mr. Luecke:

Thank you for your recent letter and the newspapers concerning Uncle Manse Jolly. The letters written by him belong to a sister of our family residing in North Carolina. They are pretty well worn and am not sure they would show up in print very well.
